Investment Strategy

This investment option invests in a portfolio which seeks to achieve the portfolio's objective by investing its assets primarily in a combination of underlying exchange traded funds ("ETFs"). Under normal circumstances, the portfolio expects to invest at least 80% of its net assets in ETFs that track the performance of a benchmark index to achieve targeted exposure to domestic equities, international equities and domestic bonds. The portfolio intends to achieve a mix over time of approximately 35% of portfolio assets in ETFs that invest primarily in equities and 65% of portfolio assets in ETFs that invest primarily in bonds. These percentages may vary. The portfolio will invest primarily in Vanguard ETFs.

Variable annuities are long-term tax deferred vehicles designed for retirement purposes. They offer three main benefits: tax-deferred treatment of earnings, guaranteed death benefit options, and guaranteed lifetime payout options. Variable annuities are subject to investment risk, including possible loss of principal.

The value of the variable annuity will fluctuate so that when surrendered, it may be worth more or less than the total of premium payments. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

A number of investment options, or subaccounts, are available under the variable annuity.

Asset allocation, an investing strategy of dividing money among many types of investments, can help investors manage risk but cannot guarantee a profit or guard against loss.

ETFs generally present the same risks as an investment in a conventional fund that has the same investment objectives, strategies and policies. The market price of an ETF's shares may be above or below the shares' net asset value; and an active trading market for an ETF's share may not develop or be maintained.

This fund's investment strategy is intended to smooth out investment performance spikes. Performance gains may not be as strong as might be available in benchmark indices or comparable funds not using volatility controls.

There are other investment choices available with different management fees associated with each choice.

The Barclays U.S. Aggregate Bond Index ("BAB") and the Transamerica Vanguard ETF Portfolio - Conservative VP Blended Benchmark are unmanaged indices used as general measures of market performance. It is not possible to invest directly into an index. The Transamerica Vanguard ETF Portfolio - Conservative VP Blended Benchmark consists of the following: BAB 65%, the MSCI U.S. Broad Market Index 25% and the Financial Times Stock Exchange All-World ex-U.S. Index 10%.

You should consider a variable annuity's investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses carefully before investing. Call 1-800-525-6205 for a contract and fund prospectus containing this and other information. Please read it carefully.
